Subchapter Authority: 37 TTC § 1; 37 TTC § 52; 4 CMC § 4705.

Subchapter History: Territorial Register, volume 1, number 1, pages 7; 26-27; and 29-31 (July 15, 1974).

Commission Comment: The Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands government originally published Non-profit Corporation Regulations applicable in the CNMI as a part of the Trust Territory Corporations, Partnerships and Associations Regulations. See Territorial Register, volume 1, number 1, pages 5-36 (July 15, 1974).

4 CMC § 4201 created a Registrar of Corporations within the Office of the Attorney General. Former 4 CMC § 4202 authorized the Registrar, with the approval of the Governor and Attorney General, to prescribe rules and regulations governing corporations, partnerships and associations.

The regulations promulgated by the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, as amended by the Registrar of Corporations, governed all corporations in the Commonwealth until July 1990. In July 1990, pursuant to the authority of former 4 CMC § 4202, the Registrar issued the 1990 Business Corporation Regulations and subsequent amendments. See NMIAC, title 20, chapter 50.1; see also 4 CMC § 4202 (1990).

NMIAC § 20 50.1 1620 (Business Corporation Regulations § 17.05), codified at 4 CMC § 4705, repealed the parts of the Trust Territory Regulations regulating for profit corporations, effective July 25, 1990. However, the Trust Territory provisions regulating non-profit corporations were not repealed and remained in effect.

TITLE 20: DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

PL 10 7 (effective May 10, 1996), the “Commonwealth Business Corporation Regulation Act,” codified at 4 CMC §§ 4251 4705 enacted the 1990 Business Corporation Regulations (as amended in 1994) as statutory law. See PL 10 7 §§ 1 and 3; see also NMIAC, title 20, chapter 50.1.

Pursuant to 4 CMC § 4705, the provisions of the Trust Territory regulations governing non-profit corporations continued in effect in the CNMI. Specifically, 4 CMC § 4705 does not repeal Trust Territory Regulations, title 37, chapter 1, sections 2.9 and 2.10, chapter 2, part 3 (“Nonprofit Corporations”) and chapter 4 (“Corporations Sole for Ecclesiastical Purposes”). See Territorial Register, volume 1, number 1, pages 7; 26-27; and 29-31 (July 15, 1974).

In 1997, the Governor transferred the Registrar of Corporations and the remaining legal functions of that office in regards to corporations of the Commonwealth from the Office of the Attorney General to the Department of Commerce. See Executive Order 97-03 (November 13, 1997).

Attorney General Opinion No. 05-12 (August 12, 2005), 27 Com. Reg. 24812 (Aug. 22, 2005), addresses the status of the Trust Territory regulations for partnerships and non-profit corporations. The Attorney General concluded that because the Trust Territory’s 1974 regulations for partnerships and non-profit corporations have never been repealed or superceded, they remain in full force and effect pursuant to the transitional provisions of the CNMI Constitution and other laws. Attorney General Opinion No. 05-12 is reprinted in full below.

Attorney General Opinion No. 05 12

Date: August 12, 2005

Re: Trust Territory business regulations
Continuation in effect into new administrative code

Issue and Short Answer

Questions

Do the regulations for nonprofit corporations and partnerships survive from the Trust Territory Government’s legal framework? If so, should they be incorporated into the new CNMI Administrative Code?

Short Answer

Yes to both questions. The Transitional Provisions of the Constitution require the continuation of all laws which have not been repealed or superceded.

Summary

The Commonwealth Constitution’s transitional provision provides that TT laws will continue in effect unless repealed or superceded. The Trust Territory’s 1974 regulations for partnerships and nonprofit corporations were never repealed or superceded. While the new Commonwealth Legislature did supercede the TT’s for profit corporation regulations with comprehensive new ones, it never addressed the partnership or nonprofit corporation regulations.

Under well settled principles of statutory construction, the two sets of old regulations survive, and are still in full force and effect. The LRC should include the partnership and nonprofit regulations in its upcoming codification, the Commonwealth’s Administrative Code.

Discussion

In order to determine whether the partnership and nonprofit regulations from TT days are still in effect, it was necessary to review the TT’s authority and power to promulgate them. This required a review of the source documents for TT law.

Then, in order to determine how the TT regulations were adopted for use in the CNMI it was necessary to examine the relevant transitional documents. While the nonprofit regulations’ history is relatively straightforward, the history of the partnership regulations is more complex.

TITLE 20: DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

1. Background and relevant facts

During the Trust Territory's management of the NMI's legal affairs a number of sets of regulations were adopted. Among these were the regulations for partnerships and nonprofit corporations. It appears that, since the adoption of the CNMI Constitution other sets of such business regulations have either been adopted to supercede TT regulations or TT regulations have been repealed.

a. Corporations

The CNMI Registrar looks to TT regulations for the oversight of nonprofit corporations. The explicit and immediate authority for the Trust Territory's nonprofit corporation regulations lay in TT Code Title 37, § 52 (Registrar's authority to promulgate regulations) and the TT's Business Code. The Code gave the High Commissioner the authority to grant for and nonprofit corporation charters. 37 TTC § 1. The chapter, consisting of §§ 1-6, applied to every private profit and nonprofit corporation.

This corporation language was adopted into the CNMI Code, giving the power to grant charters to the CNMI Governor. 4 CMC § 4101-02; PL 3-11. Then, by Executive Order 94-3, the Governor's role was replaced by that of the Attorney General. By subsequent Executive Order the power to grant charters was moved with the Registrar to the CNMI Department of Commerce. Executive Order 97-03 (Nov. 13, 1997).¹

¹The Department of Commerce and the Attorney General recognized that the functions of the Commonwealth Register were to remain with the Attorney General's Office. MOU of May 29, 2003.

i. Source of TT power and authority for corporations

The source of the power of the TT Government to promulgate nonprofit corporation regulations is the UN Charter, the trust documents based thereon, and the President and the Congress' related enactments:

Members of the United Nations which have or assume responsibilities for the administration of territories...accept as a sacred trust the obligation to promote to the utmost...the well being of the inhabitants of these territories, and, to this end:

- a. to ensure...their political, economic...advancement....
- b. to promote constructive measures of development

Charter of the United Nations, Ch. XI, Art. 73. The basic objectives of the trusteeship system included promoting the economic advancement of the inhabitants. Id. Art. 76. The United States was designated as the administering authority of the Trust Territory that included the Northern Mariana Islands. Trusteeship Agreement for the Former Japanese Mandated Islands (Approved by the Security Council, Apr. 2, 1947; Ratified by US, Jul 18, 1947 [61 stat. 397]), art. 2.

The US had full powers of legislation and could apply such of the laws of the US as it deemed appropriate. Id., art. 3. The US was to promote the economic advancement of the inhabitants. Id., art. 6 § 2. Congress provided that all executive, judicial and legislative authority was to vest in the persons designated by the President. 48 USC § 1681 (68 stat. 330) (Jun. 30, 1954). The President provided for TT administration by executive order. Executive Orders Nos. 9875 (Jul. 18, 1947), 10265 (Jun. 29, 1951), 10408 (Nov. 10, 1952) and 10470 (Jul. 17, 1953).

The President moved civil administration of the TT to the Secretary of the Interior. Executive Order No. 11021 (May 8, 1962), amended by 11944 (Oct. 25, 1976). This included all executive, legislative and judicial authority. Id., § 1. The Secretary could, in turn, delegate this authority. Id., § 2.

TT laws were to remain in force and effect until they expired by their own limitation or until or unless repealed by the NMI Legislature. Secretarial Order No. 2989 (Mar. 24, 1976), Part iv. § 1. Therein lies the basis for the continuation of the corporation regulations in effect through the birth of the CNMI.

ii. The TT nonprofit corporation regulations

The TT nonprofit corporation regulations provide generally: that the Registrar may grant a charter for a nonprofit corporation to persons who have filed petitions which state the corporation's name, address, purpose, period and initial officers and directors, the provisions for internal governance and dissolution, and that the corporation is neither organized for profit nor will deliver profits to its members. TT Regulations, Title 37, "Corporations, Partnerships and Associations", Ch. 1, "Corporations Generally", Part 2, "Organization; Powers", §§ 2.9 and 2.10. Territorial Register, Vol. 1, No. 1 (Jul. 15, 1974), p. 7.

The merger or consolidation of nonprofit corporations is addressed in Title 37, Ch. 2, "Consolidation and Merger of Corporations", Part 3, "Nonprofit Corporations", §§ 3.1 - 3.9. Territorial Register, Vol. 1, No. 1 (Jul. 15, 1974), pp 26 27.

A special chapter is provided for ecclesiastical corporations. Title 37, Chapter 4 "Corporations Sole [sic] for Ecclesiastical Purposes", Part 1, §§ 1.1 - 1.9. Territorial Register, Vol. 1, No. 1 (Jul. 15, 1974), pp 29 31.

iii. CNMI use of TT nonprofit corporation materials

The CNMI Registrar maintains forms on which petitioners may file for a nonprofit charter, and the instructions therefore. (Instructions for preparing and filing petition for a charter for articles of incorporation for a non profit, tax exempt corporation, the form Petition, the form Charter [rev'd 5/21/99], form Bylaws; and, for a foreign nonprofit corporation, requirement for filing a foreign non profit corporation, form application for certificate of authority).²

² Fax fr Remy C. Mafnas, Registrar, to A Barak (2/7/05).

b. Partnerships

There is no TT organic act that explicitly supports the promulgation of partnership regulations. There has been no statute in the Marianas which specifically addresses partnership law.

Almost all states have such a statute. All but three states have adopted the Uniform Partnership Act. Uniform Partnership Act (1997), Refs and Annos, Table of Jurisdictions Wherein Act Has Been Adopted (Westlaw). The first state to adopt it was Pennsylvania, in 1914. In re Safady Bros., 228 F. 538, 539 (D.C.Wis. 1915). A more recent version of the UPA was published for adoption in 1997. (Uniform Partnership Act (1997)).³ Our Legislature has before it a proposal to adopt the UPA, but it has not acted on the proposal. See HB 14 73.

³ The original UPA "was drawn by William Draper Lewis for the Conference, based on the incomplete work of the late James Barr Ames, Dean of the Harvard Law School, and on the English Partnership Act, drawn by Sir Frederick Pollock. It is an attempt to codify the existing common law on the subject, rather than to change that system; but where the rules are conflicting it chooses the one supposed to be the better." In re Safady Bros., 228 F. 538, 539 40 (D.C.Wis. 1915).

i. Source of authority for the partnership regulations

TITLE 20: DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

But there is ample substantive law on partnerships, because the business organization form of partnerships evolved through the common law. See, e.g., Seafirst Center Ltd. Partnership v. Erickson, 127 Wash.2d 355, 361 fn. 4, 898 P.2d 299, 301 fn. 4 (Wash.1995), for a reference to the “ancient common law.”⁴ This means that the substance of the TT Registrar’s regulations for partnerships sprang from the common law rather than from a specific statute.⁵

There was also ample authority for the TT Government to promulgate partnership regulations. Since the source documents created a TT government with full executive and legislative power, as discussed supra, the TT Registrar had full executive and legislative power to promulgate regulations relating to partnerships. The power and authority of the TT Government to issue these regulations originated with Congress’ above cited provision that all executive, judicial and legislative authority was to vest in the persons designated by the President. 48 USC § 1681 (68 stat. 330) (Jun. 30, 1954).

⁴ One treatise traces the rule that discharge of one partner discharges all partners “to the 14th century.” Glanville L. Williams, Joint Obligations 106 (1949). With respect to partnerships specifically, Story cites ancient case law for the proposition that “[a] release to one partner is a release to all, whether the claim released arise ex contractu or ex delicto.” Joseph Story, Partnership 287 n. 3 (7th ed. 1881). Seafirst Center Ltd. Partnership v. Erickson, 127 Wash.2d 355, 361 fn. 4, 898 P.2d 299, 301 fn. 4 (Wash.1995.)

⁵ When CNMI jurisprudence has not articulated a principle of common law, the courts look to the Restatements of the Law. In all proceedings, the rules of the common law, as expressed in the restatements of the law approved by the American Law Institute and, to the extent not so expressed as generally understood and applied in the United States, shall be the rules of decision in the courts of the Commonwealth, in the absence of written law or local customary law to the contrary. 7 CMC § 3401. Ada v. Sablan, 1 NMI 415, 427 (1990). A review of the Restatements reveals no Restatement on “partnerships”. Rather, pronouncements regarding the obligations of partners appear in the Restatement of Contracts and the Restatement of Torts.

ii. The TT partnership regulations

The TT Registrar’s partnership regulations provide for both general and limited partnerships. TT Regulations, Title 37, “Corporations, Partnerships and Associations”, Ch. 5, “Partnerships”, Part 1, “Partnerships in General”, §§ 1.1 - 1.14, and Part 2, “Limited Partnership”, §§ 2.1 - 2.28, Territorial Register, Vol. 1 No. 1 (Jul. 15, 1974), pp. 31-36.

iii. The CNMI’s use of the partnership regulations

The CNMI Registrar uses the five pages of partnership regulations, and provides a form on which petitioners may register a partnership (Partnership registration form).⁶

⁶ Fax fr Remy C. Mafnas, Registrar, to A Barak (2/7/05).

c. Continuation of both sets of regulations

A review of the Commonwealth Register shows that no regulations have been adopted during the CNMI for partnerships and nonprofit corporations. The Registrar of Corporations and practitioners have been using the TT partnership regulations as though they were still in effect.⁷ By contrast, in serving for profit corporations, the Registrar has been using the comprehensive Corporation Regulations, adopted in 1990. (12 Com. Reg. 5 (May 15, 1990), p. 6907 (proposed), 12 Com. Reg. 7, (Jul. 15, 1990), p. 7201 (adopted); enacted into law by PL 10 7 (effective May 10, 1996), codified at 4 CMC 4251-4705.⁸

TITLE 20: DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

This regulatory scheme presents a practical issue for the Law Revision's Commission's codification of the administrative code B are the old TT regulations for partnerships and nonprofit corporations "in" or "out"?

⁷ Phone interview with B Mailman by A Barak (1/31/05). Phone interview with Remy C. Mafnas, Registrar, by A Barak (2/7/05).

⁸ According to PL 10 7, § 1 most of the regulations were codified in the new statute:

Section 1. Regulations Enacted as Statute.

(a) Except as provided by subsection (b), the rules and regulations governing business corporations in the Commonwealth, the Business Corporation Regulations, adopted July 15, 1990 in the Commonwealth Register, Volume 12, No. 7, pages 7201 6997 [sic], as amended on May 15, 1994 in the Commonwealth Register, Volume 16, Number 5, page 11888, are hereby incorporated by reference and enacted as statute law. The Commonwealth Law Revision Commission shall codify these former rules and regulations in the appropriate Commonwealth Code statutory format.

(b) Sections 1.02 and 8.03(a) of the Business Corporation Regulations are not incorporated by reference, are not enacted as statute law, and are hereby rescinded.

PL 10 7 § 1, quoted at 4 CMC § 4251, Comment.

2. Applicable law

The supreme laws of the CNMI are the CNMI Constitution, the US Constitution, and the Covenant between the CNMI and the USA. The CNMI Constitution is a "paramount" source of Commonwealth law. Ada v. Sablan, 1 NMI 415, 427 (1990). Its transitional sections govern the survival of the partnership and nonprofit corporation regulations.

The CNMI Constitution's schedule on transitional matters provides that certain laws and corporations in existence should remain in effect until the terms of the relevant transitional provision have been executed. CNMI Const. Schedule on Transitional Matters, §§ 2, 6:

Section 2: Continuity of Laws. Laws in force in the Northern Mariana Islands on the day preceding the effective date of the Constitution that are consistent with the Constitution and the Covenant shall continue in force until they expire or are amended or repealed.

CNMI Const. Schedule on Transitional Matters, § 2. (Emphasis added)

Section 6: Continuity of Corporations and Licenses. Corporations incorporated or qualified to do business in the Northern Marian Islands [sic] on the effective date of the Constitution shall continue to be incorporated or qualified until provided otherwise by law. Licenses in effect in the Northern Marian Islands on the effective date of the Constitution shall continue in effect until provided otherwise by law except that no license possessed by a land surveyor, ship officer, health professional or a practicing trial assistant may be amended or revoked except for incompetence or unethical conduct.

CNMI Const. Schedule on Transitional Matters, § 6. (Emphasis added) Neither section has been certified as executed. The Trust Territory Code was incorporated into the CNMI Code in 1991 by PL 3 90 § 2.

The TT regulations in question were "laws". A regulation has the full force and effect of the law, if it has been properly promulgated. E.g., Garnes v. Barnhart, F.Supp.2d , 2004 WL 3118992, (N.D.Cal. 2004), citing Chevron USA, Inc. v. Natural Resources Defense Council, Inc., 467 U.S.

TITLE 20: DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

837, 842, 104 S.Ct. 2778, 81 L.Ed.2d 694 (1984); State of Hawai'i v. Kotis, 91 Hawai'i 319, 330; 984 P.2d 78, 90 (Hawai'i 1999). Also, United States of America v. Alameda Gateway, Ltd., 213 F.3d 1161, 1168 (9th Cir 2000).

We must look to the Commonwealth Register to see whether the CNMI has superceded or repealed the partnership and nonprofit regulations. The Commonwealth Register is the successor to the Territorial Register and shall contain the text of all laws, official rules and regulations. Executive Order 1 (Jan. 12, 1978) (Camacho, C. Governor).⁹

The Commonwealth Registrar of Corporations, by permanent regulation, repealed TT corporate regulations governing for profit corporations, but not for nonprofit corporations or partnerships. Corporation Regulations, 17.05 (Repeal).¹⁰ The Legislature replaced the for profit statute with a new for profit corporation law, and new regulations, but did not provide a similar nonprofit statute or nonprofit regulations. Taitano v. Northern Marianas Softball Ass'n., No. 93 0356 (Superior Ct. 1994) (Castro, J).¹¹

⁹ The first executive order of the Governor specified the role of the Commonwealth Register:

Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands
Executive Order of the Governor

Executive Order Number One
January 12, 1978

Northern Marianas Register

1. There is established the Commonwealth of the Northern Marianas Register, which is the successor to the Territorial Register. It shall be published daily, Sundays and Holidays excepted.
2. The Commonwealth Register shall contain the text of all laws, executive orders, proclamations, official rules and regulations, official notices, and related matters.
3. The Attorney General shall be responsible for publication of the Commonwealth Register. Copies shall be distributed to all elected officials, the senior officers of each branch, department head, and independent agencies.
4. Copies shall be available in one or more public places for public scrutiny and copies shall be available for public distribution.

Carlos S. Camacho, Governor.

Executive Order 1 (Jan. 12, 1978) (Camacho, C. Governor). (Emphasis added)

¹⁰ The 1990 Corporation Regulations repealed some of the TT Corporation Regulations B Title 37, Ch. 1, § 1.1 2.8, 2.11 7.2, Ch. 2, Parts 1 and 2, and Chapter 3. Corporation Regulations 17.05, 12 Com Reg. No. 5 (May 15, 1990), p. 6997 (adopted 12 Com. Reg. 7 (Jul. 15, 1990), p. 7201).

¹¹ The Taitano Court held that, given there were no regulations to govern the particular dispute, it would resort to common law to determine what bylaws were proper for the challenged nonprofit corporation:

In order to address the plaintiff's allegations concerning NMIASA bylaw violations, the court first turns to Title 4, Division 4 of the Commonwealth Code entitled Corporations, Partnerships and Associations. Title 4 empowers the Governor to grant charters of incorporation for the establishment of private nonprofit corporations but offers no guidance with respect to alleged by law violations occurring in nonprofit corporations. 4 CMC § 4101 et seq. On August 13, 1990, the legislature enacted the Commonwealth Business Corporation Regulations (CBRC). Although Section 10.20 and 10.22 of the CBRC offer some guidance for amendment to bylaws, the drafters of CBRC effectively limited the scope of the corporate regulations to profit making corporations by defining "corporation" as "domestic corporations. . .for profit." 12 Com. Reg. at 6918 (1990)

TITLE 20: DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

(emphasis added). Thus, the CBRC does not offer the court any guidance with respect to the actions of the nonprofit corporation, NMIASA. In the absence of CNMI written or [pg. 8] customary law to the contrary, the court resorts to the common law. 7 CMC § 3401.

Taitano v. Northern Marianas Softball Ass'n., No. 93 0356 (N.M.I. Super. Ct. 1994) (Castro, J). The TT regulations were silent on amendments to nonprofit corporate bylaws.

3. Analysis

Absent any repealer, the CNMI Constitution's Transitional Section requires that Trust Territory laws continue in effect. A properly promulgated regulation has the full force and effect of the law.

As a principle of judicial construction, when a legislature acts on a matter in part only, the balance of the matter is said to be excluded - inclusio unius est exclusio alterius. E.g., US v. Terrence, 132 F.3d 1291, 1294 (9th Cir. 1997) (In construing US Palau Compact of Free Association, and applying the doctrine of "inclusio unius est exclusio alterius," ("the inclusion of one is the exclusion of the other") a statute's limiting a thing to be done in a particular mode, in this case providing three immigration exemptions, includes a negative of any other mode, in this case preserving the obligation to register with the Attorney General). See Aldan Pierce v. Mafnas, 2 N.M.I. 122, 161 (1991), rev'd on other grounds, 31 F.3d 756 (9th Cir. 1994), cert. denied, 513 U.S. 1116, 115 S. Ct. 913, 130 L. Ed. 2d 794 (1995) ("For purposes of constitutional interpretation, the express mention of one thing implies the exclusion of another which might logically have been considered at the same time.")

Another applicable principle of judicial construction is that an enactment should be read, if at all possible, according to its plain meaning. See, Northern Marianas Housing Corp. v. Northern Marianas Land Trust, 5 N.M.I. 150, 1998 MP 1, 1998 WL 34073630 (CNMI 1998) (The basic principle of statutory construction is that language must be given its plain meaning); Camacho v. Northern Marianas Retirement Fund, 1 N.M.I. 362 (CNMI 1990) (Plain meaning rule of statutory construction applies to constitutions, to give plain meaning to provisions).

The Constitution is unambiguous, providing that TT law should continue in place unless CNMI law comes to provide otherwise. The Commonwealth Register is the only proper place to look to determine whether TT regulations have been repealed or replaced.

With respect to the instant issue the Registrar repealed only the for profit business regulations. The Register offers no changes or repealers for the other regulations in question. The Registrar deliberately left in place the unrepealed provisions and, indeed, relies on them daily. The distinction between the repealed and preserved regulations was clear and simple. This distinction has operated to preserve, as law, the partnership and nonprofit business corporation regulations.

This conclusion, that the partnership and nonprofit regulations continue in force, is consistent with the second quoted transitional section. The framers sought to continue smoothly the operations of business during the political transition from Trust to Commonwealth status. Interpreting the Registrar's actions as a preservation of the partnership and nonprofit regulations enhances the transition.

Thus, the provisions left in place are the nonprofit corporation regulations and the partnership regulations, identified supra. These provisions are valid and in full force and effect.

Conclusion

The old TT partnership and nonprofit regulations are in force and effect, and should be compiled into the LRC's new Administrative Code.
